

Voiceover	The scene you are about to see is fiction. We hope. But you might face these same wellbeing concerns on your own site. No construction workers were harmed making this film
Bad Cop	What you got there then?
Construction Worker	Nothing.
Bad Cop	Salad! Ooer, look at you with your big box of rabbit food.
Good Cop	Trying to take care of myself. I don't want my heart giving out on me.
Bad Cop	That's only a problem if you're weak hearted. Not me! This physique is high maintenance.
Good Cop	That physique comes with a health warning...
Construction Worker	Did you hear about Sergei, the crane operator?
Bad Cop	No, what about him?
Construction Worker	I heard he tried to top himself ⁱ . Had some trouble with the missus, then his mum got sick.
Bad Cop	Explains why he was such a miserable sod all the time.
Good Cop	Poor guy.
Construction Worker	Thankfully, someone found him and got him to hospital just in time. Close call, though.
Good Cop	He never said anything. If he had, someone might have been able to help. Where is he now?
Construction Worker	Home. They gave him a few weeks off work to get his head together ⁱⁱ . Probably for the best.
Bad Cop	Great. So now the rest of us have to pick up the slack.
Construction Worker	They've got a new bloke operating the crane. Came in at short notice. I think he'd been doing a shift somewhere else before he got here, though, he looks knackered ⁱⁱⁱ .
Good Cop	That's a daft idea. He could do himself an injury. .
Construction Worker	I told you he was too tired to be in that cab! He couldn't lift his head up— never mind lifting beams!
Bad Cop	He looked alright to me.... Oy! You leaving that?
Voiceover	Clearly these types of behaviours don't happen on reputable sites like yours. Now we've laughed about them, let's talk about the real life issues that they raise.
