

Leading the industry to a sustainable future

About the School

The School is a multi award-winning initiative representing a common approach to addressing sustainability within the supply chain.

Over 87 contractors, clients and suppliers back the School and actively recommend it to their own supply chains.

We offer tailored assessment and action planning tools, allowing you to identify your sustainability priorities with a simple 10-point action plan.

Our 34,000+ members work across sectors including construction, infrastructure, facilities management and homes, and our free, practical resources are accessible across England, Wales and Scotland, including CPD-accredited workshops, e-learning and videos in key topic areas of sustainability, offsite, management, BIM and Lean construction.

Be active to achieve gold, silver or bronze membership status and use this recognition on tenders, pitches, social media, email signatures or marketing publications. 🌱

The School has gone from strength to strength and is now the UK's leading supplier engagement sustainability tool."
