

Leading the industry to a sustainable future

About the School

The School is a multi award-winning initiative which represents a common approach to addressing sustainability within the supply chain.

87+ contractors, clients and suppliers back the School and actively recommend it to their supply chain.

The School provides a tailored assessment and action planning tool, allowing you to identify your ongoing sustainability priorities with a simple 10-point action plan.

We have more than 34,000 members across six sectors, including construction, infrastructure, facilities management, homes, offsite and management. Our free, practical resources are accessible across England, Wales and Scotland, including CPD-accredited workshops, e-learning and videos.

Be active to achieve gold, silver or bronze membership status and use this recognition on tenders, pitches, social media, email signatures or marketing publications. 🌱

The School has gone from strength to strength and is now the UK's leading supplier engagement sustainability tool."
