HOW DOES THE ACTIVITY SUPPORT THE 100K STRATEGY?

Activity	Why is this needed?	Who is the audience?	How does this benefit the sector?	How does this help to get people learning through the School?	Who can we collaborate with? (other membership organisations; trade federations etc)
Deliver a virtual conference focusing on Public Procurement Act 2023	This is a key change in the procurement landscape of the UK - organisations across the supply chain are seeking to learn more about this.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Procurement professionals across the supply chain 	There is a need – which the School can fulfil – to educate the supply chain on how this legislation will indirectly impact them and how they can prepare for it.	This is a key opportunity to promote the e-learning module we are looking to develop.	Partners <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Contracting Authorities (central government departments, local authorities, educational institutions) Private organisation working with Contracting Authorities, who have adjusted their procurement strategies to align with the Act
Deliver a webinar on the Building Safety Act (BSA)	This legislation has been in place for a few years, but our partners and members are still working to better understand it. In initial discussions with BSR, they acknowledged the need for greater supply chain education on BSA.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Procurement professionals across the supply chain 	Refer to 'Why is this needed?'	Partnering with multiplier organisations will expand the School's reach and visibility to new learners.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Building Safety Regulator (BSR)
Make the Irish School's CSRD e-learning module available on the UK School	UK organisations operating across Europe will still be affected by CSRD requirements. It's essential to prepare for similar UK legislation expected in the future—where the EU leads on sustainability, others often follow.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Procurement professionals across the supply chain 	Refer to 'Why is this needed?' Deliver a webinar on Early Supplier Involvement (ESI)	Engaging suppliers early in the procurement process leads to improved project outcomes, reduced risks, and enhanced sustainability	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Procurement professionals across the supply chain 	Refer to 'Why is this needed?'	Partnering with multiplier organisations will expand the School's reach and visibility to new learners.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Civil Engineering Contractors Association (CECA)
Continue supporting the Sustainability Assessment	This initiative is in the development stage and, once launched, will need ongoing support for management oversight.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Procurement professionals across the supply chain 	For client organisations and main contractors, this provides a clearer understanding of supply chain maturity, mitigating risk and supporting sustainability goals. For suppliers, it offers insights into their current rating, benchmarking, and a clear pathway for improvement.	Partnering with multiplier organisations will expand the School's reach and visibility to new learners.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Once for All CHAS Achilles
Support Build UK in updating the Common Assessment Standard (CAS)	Build UK is seeking support to refine sustainability-related questions—covering FIR, Modern Slavery, and Carbon—and, where appropriate, introduce new sustainability topics in CAS v5.0.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Procurement professionals across the supply chain 	Standardisation of the construction pre-qualification (PQ) process, improves efficiency, reduces cost and raises quality standards across the supply chain.
