

Challenges:

As a business our greatest challenge is the Scope 3 Carbon Emissions. We have just begun our journey to reduce our carbon footprint, using 2024 as our baseline year. We have been collecting Scope 1 & 2 data since the beginning of this year and already we have a comprehensive idea of how we can begin to reduce these emissions year on year. A carbon reduction plan is being developed to help us achieve our goals.

Scope 3 has proven to be more complex but working together with our supply chain on data collection and transparency we are hopeful that we can begin recording accurate data in 2025 to see where reductions and improvements can be made.

Impact:

Engaging with the school has benefited BPC Interiors as it has helped the business tackle the challenges and impacts that arise from such challenges by utilising the extensive knowledge the school has to offer by integrating it within our business, upskilling our workforce on sustainability matters, keeping up to date with industry changes and assessing our knowledge.

As a business we particularly benefited from the E-Learning modules and webinars, receiving very positive feedback, with staff saying it's engaging and that they come away feeling they have learnt something they can use in their day-to-day life, either at work and/or outside work.

Being given an action plan individually has allowed our employees to work at their own pace, upskill their knowledge and achieve certificates to celebrate their achievements.

Using the knowledge gained from the school has given us the confidence to engage more frequently with our stakeholders on sustainability matters and how we can all work in collaboration to achieve our goals

Value gained:

Being a member of the school has given our stakeholders confidence that as a business we are taking sustainability seriously and embedding this as one of our core values within the company. As the school has a range of resources for sustainability, we have not only been looking at environmental matters but also social aspects such as Equality, Diversity & Inclusion and Neurodiversity. It has given us the opportunity to review our impacts and assess them and develop a Social Value Plan and Sustainability Strategy to improve our business.

Future proofing:

One of our KPIs for 2025 is to engage more of our employees to give them a better understanding of the sustainability drivers of our clients, reducing our risks as a business and have more efficient proactive processes available.

Fact box

Company

BPC Interiors

No of employees

32

HQ

29 Boundary Street, London, E2 7JQ

Website

www.bpcinteriors.com

Main contact

Karly Mills - Environmental, Sustainability & Social Value Manager

karly.mills@bpcinteriors.com

Services

The supply and installation of high-quality partition and ceiling systems

About

As a leading suspended ceilings and partition contractor, we work on new builds, refurbishments and fit outs, across the UK. We'll help with conception and design, through to the build and the handover. Providing exceptional client service is important to us, whether it's dry lining system partitioning, plastering or suspended ceilings. We always aim to deliver the highest quality of standards.