

Challenges:

Veho Solutions operates in the UK transport sector, which contributes around 30% of the country's greenhouse gas emissions. As a provider of logistics and mobility services, the company recognises its responsibility in supporting the transition to a decarbonised economy. A core challenge is balancing operational efficiency with environmental responsibility, particularly as sustainability expectations continue to grow among both private clients and large-scale contracts.

Over time, the company has seen a clear shift in demand, with clients increasingly wanting evidence of sustainable practices rather than promises. Involvement in COP26 was a defining moment, requiring the company to deliver logistics solutions to a globally significant event while demonstrating a clear commitment to environmental best practice. This reinforced the belief that sustainability must be embedded in every aspect of operations, though Veho Solutions initially needed support to know where to start.

Impact:

Engagement with the Supply Chain Sustainability School has had a transformative effect on Veho Solutions. It has raised awareness across the team, encouraging staff to think more deeply about their role in supporting sustainability. The platform has empowered individuals to take ownership of environmental goals and formalised areas where the company was already strong, such as gender equality, but had not yet documented in a structured way.

The School's intuitive and engaging interface, together with its gamified bronze, silver and gold progression, has made learning both enjoyable and motivating. Support from the School's team has also been exceptional, offering approachable and knowledgeable guidance. Overall, the School has helped Veho Solutions to strengthen its internal culture around sustainability and made it easier to communicate values externally.

Value gained:

The value the School has brought to Veho Solutions is substantial. A key benefit is that resources are freely available, removing financial barriers and enabling the company to invest time rather than money. The more time invested, the greater the return. The breadth of content has highlighted areas not previously considered, such as biodiversity, social value and ethical sourcing, helping to build a more comprehensive sustainability strategy.
